Sanitized - Approved For Release : Cl

NEW YORK TIMES

. FEB 19 1964

OSWALD MEETING NEARLY CANCELE

Town Hall, Fearing a Melee Insists on $25,000 Bond

By PETTER KIHSS

Mr. Aronson said Nationa Guardian's $600 rental had been confirmed by a letter and check on Jan. 14 after arrangements on Jan, 14 after arrangements had been made over the telephone. Town Hall confirmed that its director, Ornand J. Drake, associate dean of the N.Y.U. Division of General Ecuation, whete in a letter on Jan. ection, wrote in a letter on Jan. 28 that the understanding had been Mr. Lane would . . . k, but that an article in The New York Journal-American had then an-Immal-American might to appear "to proclaim her son's involv- innocence."

Terms Are Held Altered

"The terms of the proposed. lease have been materially altered," Mr. Drake wrote. He continued:

"In our opinion Mrs. Oswald's appearance could be incendiary. Town Hall does not choose to be a party to the airing of a case that is presently being studied by the Presidential commission.

"In view of the importance of the investigation now in progress by this high-level judicial committee, Town Hall does not believe that the appearance of Mrs. Oswald on a public platpurpose."

sel of the American Civil Liberties Union.

age."

Mr. Ennis replied on Feb. 5. objecting to "the onerous condition of a large bond as security against completely improbable physical damage."

"Such a general requirement," Mr. Ennis wrote, "suggestive of an unconstitutional condition, would penalize proponents of a peaceable assembly rather than its opponents un-lawfully threatening physical disturbance, and would subject the peaceable assembly to the lawfully threatening physical disturbance, and would subject the peaceable assembly to the veto by commercial surety companies which might exact the deposit of full cash collateral for a bond or refuse it altogether in the case of impopular meetings."

Lynd, professor of history at Spelman College, Atlanta, and Jack Minnis, former research director of the Southern Regional Council's Voter Education Project, who had collaborated in a New Republic article on the Oswald case entitled "Seeds of Doubt."

Insists on a Bond

Mr. Drake insisted on a bond. form would serve any useful the National Guardian, Mr. Arouson said, submitted a one-Aronson said, got the aid of day $25,000 insurance policy on Edward J. Ennis, general councompanies, Mr. Aronson re-ported, $25,000 in negotiable

Mr. Drake wrote the weekly bonds and cashier's checks was a letter on Feb. 4, enclosing a bonds and cashier's checks was raised from four persons he presented to leave unnamed the money was deposited on Monday in a bank against any Town Hall claims. Monday in a bank against any Town Hall claims.

Queries to the Police Department, Town Hall and The National Guardian yesterday afternoon brought disclaimers from all quarters on knowledge of any threats to disturb the meet-

David Haber, professor of law at Rutgers University was chairman of the meeting. Other speakers included Staughton Lynd, professor of history at

FOIAb3b

CPYRGHT

CPYRGHT

Continued

nknowledge nounced cancel ... ing Mrs. Marguerite Oswald on the ground that her appearance "could be incendiary."

The hall, a part of New York University since 1958, allowed the meeting to go on last night only after The National Guardian weekly, sponsor of the meeting, deposited $25,000 in cash to cover any damages to Town Hall premises.

James Aronson, the weekly's editor, called the episode "a disgrace to the concept of free speech and free inquiry."

Town Hall spokesmen con-tended that the sponsors at first had not told them that Mrs. Oswald, the mother of President Kennedy's accused assassin, was to appear.

The spokesmen said Town Hall "would prefer not to have further dealings with The Na-tional Guardian."

Bonds in 8 Previous Cases

James V. Edwards, assistant director of Town Hall, said bonds had been required in at least three previous cases.

A $25,000 bond, he said, was required from the Student Committee for Travel to Cuba, whose meeting last Sept. 15 caused thousands of anti-Castro demonstrators to mill around Times Square. Phillip Abbott Luce, that group's spokesman, said this had been an insurance policy.

Fifteen-hundred persons were reported to have bought all available tickets for last night's meeting at prices from $1.50 to $5. In addition to Mrs. Oswald. speakers included former Assemblyman Mark Lane, whom she has named unpaid de-fense counsel for her son, Lee H. Oswald.

Town Hall occupies a 42-year-old structure at 123 West 43rd Street. Its slogan, "You Shall Know the Truth and the Truth Shall Make You Free," appears on the front of the building.

Sanitized - Approved For Release : CIA-RDP75-00149R000600170039-9

-Sanitized - Approved For Release : CIA-RDP75-00149R000600170039-9

CPYRGHT

PHILADELPHIA INQUIRER FEB 1 4 1964

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13 (AP). -Intelligence chief John A. Mc-Cone was Thur day that "Lee Oswald was never directly or indirectly linked with the CIA."

McCone's statement through a Central Intelligence Agency spokesman, was prompted by Mrs. Marguerite Oswald's expressed belief that her son was a CIA secret agent "set up to take the blame" for President John F. Kennedy's assassina-

Mrs. Oswald made this suggestion Wednesday as she finished three days of testimony to the presidential commission investigating the Kennedy assassination. The commission may call one or possibly two new witnesses and week.

CPYRGHT

Associated Press Wirephoto

OSWALD WITH WEAPONS: Picture of Lee H. Oswald, alleged assassin of President Kennedy, was taken about April, 1963, in the back yard of his Dallas home. He held a rifle, which may have been weapon used in the shooting, carried a pistol on his hip. In his hand is a copy of a newspaper called The Militant. The photograph was published by Detroit Free Press and Dallas Morning News.

FEB 19 1964